20th Century Progress

The Remington Arms Co has produced a Shotgun and Rifle which are Autoloading: The Recoil Does the Work

The 20th Century finds many of us dazed in astonishment at the almost unbelievable feats of science. Wireless telegraphy, the aeroplane and the electric locomotive-when we stop to consider them, make us sit up and rub our eyes after the manner of a Rip Van Winkle. It is not that we have been asleep for 20 years, but that science works so quietly. Results which genius has been years in working out, awaken us from the routine of life and make us marvel at the progress of our age.

Cross bows, flint locks, and muzzle-loading rifles and guns all had their day. Then came the breech-loaders and lever action, magazine repeating rifles and hammer, then hammerless breech loading shotguns. But the gunmaker's ambition had not yet been attained. The great endeavor of all firearm makers was to find a safe and practical way of using the recoil to do the work of ejecting and reloading.

THE REMINGTON AUTOLOADING RIFLE

Remington genius solved the problem and gave to American Sportsmen the Remington Autoloading Rifle and Shotgun which load themselves. The safety of the shooter, however, was even more important in the mind of the in ventor than the idea of relieving him of the work and worry of operating the arm.

In the remington Autoloading type, the recoil is utilized by having the barrel movable so as to react against a stiff spring. Upon the explosion of the shell or cartridge, the kick pushes the barrel back against the spring. When the barrel moves forward, the fired shell is ejected and a loaded one thrown into place from the magazine chamber which holds five.

THE REMINGTON AUTOLOADING SHOTGUN

The danger of the powerful smokeless powder gas blow ing back into a shooter's eye has always been the great problem to overcome in gun making. A thick wall of solie steel, unbroken by protruding hammer or screw hole, abso lutely protects the shooter's face. A Remington is absolute ly safe.

The Remington Autoloading Rifle and Shotgun stand to-day as the gunmaker's greatest attainment in that the load themselves, are solid-Breech Hammerless, and presen five shots at the command of the shooter's trigger finger.

The Remington Arms Company was the first to intro duce the Solid Breech Hammerless feature to the pump type of shotgun. The new Remington Pump also loads and ejectat the bottom in addition to having this Remington Solid Breech Hammerless feature.

THE REMINGTON PUMP GUN

The Remington make is the oldest in America. Eliphabeputy clerk. h let Kemington began to make Remington guns and rifles at his forge in 1816. Yet to day Remington guns and rifles at said court this with day of March. represent the youngest, most modern and most represent the said court his with day of March. ideas in gun making. Eliphalet would surely rub his eyes in astonishment if he could s e one of the modern Reming tons which load themselves. Perhaps in his wildest dreams his ambition had pictured a recoil-operating gun and rifle for he was a pioneer and full of progressive ideas. Surely he would say "Science works quietly but incessantly and I marvel at the 20th Century Remingtons."
